Wagons for Dogs - Vital Vet Review

Jane L., who's part of the Vital Vet community, wrote and asked if we could recommend a dog wagon for her beautiful 63 lbs Pittie girl, Cora. Jane had researched wagons but couldn't find what she needed. Cora's a big girl; she has arthritis and can only walk short distances. "Once Cora plops down, that's the signal that she needs a wagon to ride the rest of the way," said Jane. So she contacted Vital Vet for help in sourcing the best wagon to meet Cora's needs.

What Clients Like You Are Saying

Cindy Harrington, Ph.D., CVT, CCAT
ELvation USA - Vet

"We're really happy with the results and return on investment (ROI) we've achieved through our ad with Vital Vet. Our initial ad garnered significantly higher engagement compared to numerous other advertising channels we've explored. Vital Vet's ability to hone in on a hyperfocused audience coupled with the exceptional quality of their content has been instrumental. We couldn't be more satisfied with the outcome."

Jeff VerHoef, Founder
Canine Mobility

"I think it's time to come back to Vital Vet. The money I spent elsewhere for marketing was a total waste and I am regretting the decision. Let me know if you'd consider taking Canine Mobility on as a client again. The best sales I had were during the 6 months I was working with you. Thank you!"

Ryan Gallagher, Co-Founder, CEO
Scribenote, Inc.

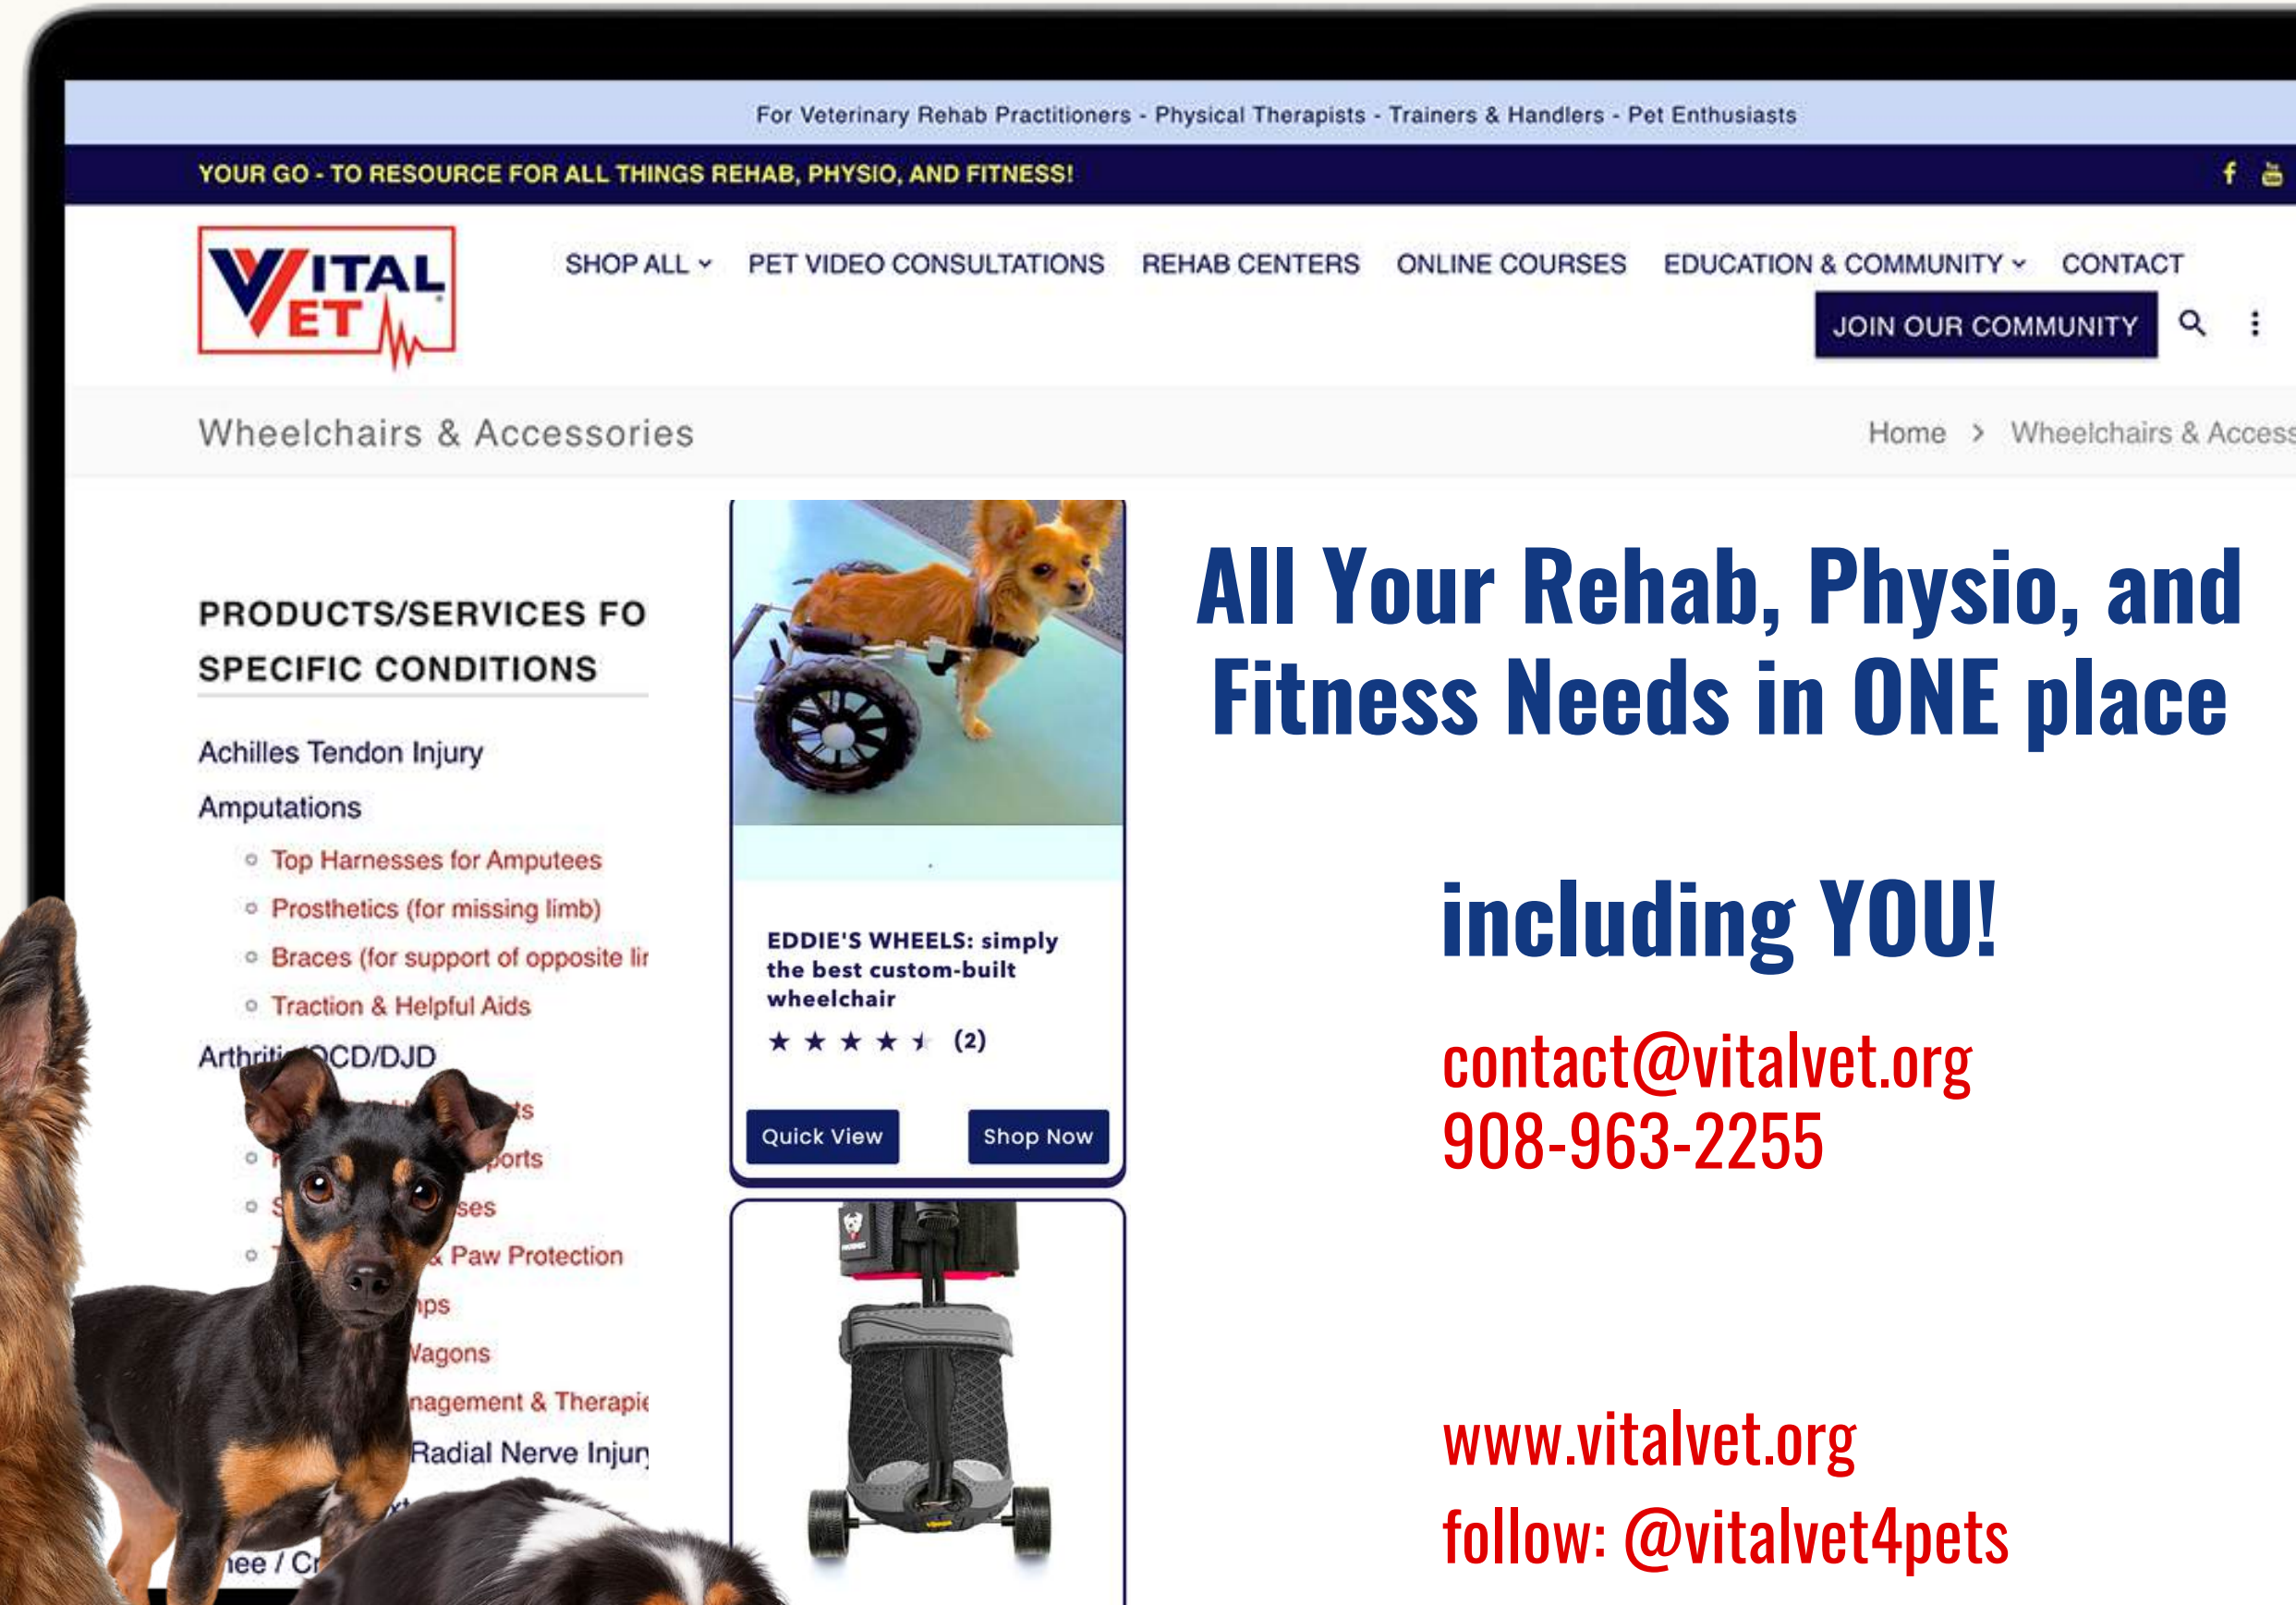

"The Vital Vet team is, as their name suggests, 'Vital'. Within days of working with Vital Vet, they executed and began delivering results. Not only did they deliver on everything they promised, they went above and beyond, frequently exchanging emails to offer advice and ideas.

I have come to expect (my emails from Vital Vet) include good news, new opportunities, and strong ideas to further our growth. Thanks Vital Vet!"
